General Data Protection Regulation starting May 25th 2018

Dear valued Customer,

it will not have escaped your attention that the new European General Data Protection Regulation EU 2016/679 ("GDPR") will come into effect as from May 25th 2018. To comply with GDPR requirements, we would like to ask you to confirm that you would like to continue receiving content by email in the future.

You are kindly requested to update your email settings by adjusting your subscription or register yourself under www.saco.de and acknowledge your desire to continue receiving SACO Shipping GmbH tariffs, customer information, invitation for customer events and/or our newsletters. Otherwise we won't be able to further supply you with information from our mailing list after May 25th 2018.

We hope that our content was valuable in the past and that you would like to continue hearing from us in the future.

Your SACO Shipping Team
